Strikers Likely To Refuse Plan For Truce; Chamber Committee Urges Return To Work

INVESTIGATION IS BEGUN; COMMITTEE GIVEN STATEMENTS

Arbitration Members of Chamber of Commerce Hear From Both Sides

Day is Quiet on Waterfront With Police on Alert; Some Difficulty Handling Cargoes But in General Vessels Are Given Good Despatch

BULLETIN

A 3:20 this afternoon it is reported that the strikers have refused to accept the chamber's plan. The chamber committee and strike representatives are in closed session in the chamber of commerce rooms and it is understood that a suggestion has been made for the appointment of an arbitration committee of three on each side.

Recommendations made by the Chamber of Commerce arbitration committee that the striking stevedores return to work and then approach the question of a wage increase were under consideration at a strikers' meeting when the second edition of the Star-Bulletin went to press today.

Indications at 3 o'clock were that the strikers would refuse the plan of truce offered by the chamber's committee, though later developments may change this. Outside the meeting, strikers and strike sympathizers said that it would be impossible for them to accept the plan of settlement suggested and several urged openly that they turn it down absolutely.

The Star-Bulletin was told by Japanese that Japanese stevedores had already decided not to accept the plan. An interesting feature of the strikers' meeting this afternoon is the presence of L. L. ("Link") McCandless, reported to the Star-Bulletin by the dockkeeper and others, who say he was early at the meeting. He has previously denied any contribution to the strike fund or that he was using the strike to help his own political fortunes.

At 2:30 the Star-Bulletin was informed that the Japanese who have joined the strikers had held a meeting and after brief deliberation had voted not to return to work without definite assurance that the demands of the strikers will be granted.

At the 3:30 meeting Chairman John R. Galt talked to the representatives of the stevedores and said that the committee had prepared recommendations for the strikers to consider. These recommendations he made to them for the committee orally. They were that the men should return to their old places and their work and then present their demands for wage increases to their employers. He said that this recommendation was made because the stevedores had walked out before having presented to the employers formal demands for the wage increases they demanded and statement of the complaints which they had to make. Representatives of the union, he added, had said that such was the case, that it was unintentional on their part and that the intention had been to first present their claims to their employers.

Galt then said that if the men would do this the committee would use its influence in their behalf and that it was confident that it could secure favorable and prompt consideration and that the difficulties between the strikers and employers could thus be readily settled.

The chamber's committee on arbitration, acting not as an arbitration body but for investigational purposes, met first at 9 this morning to hear from the stevedores and then at 10 to hear from the shippers, stevedore firms and other employers.

Both meetings were closed to the public and to the press. Members of the arbitration committee said they felt that their work could be better done in executive session.

At the close of the morning's meeting Secretary Raymond C. Brown was authorized to announce that the sides of the strikers and their employers had been heard and that the committee was not then in a position to make any recommendations. At that time a plan was on foot to hold another meeting next Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

At a conference held early this afternoon between Mayor Lane and a committee of the union stevedores headed by Secretary Kahue, the latter informed the mayor that they would not return to work until the shipping firms had promised to pay them the wages demanded, which are 40 cents

TERMS RELATIONS KOREA AND JAPAN QUITE CORDIAL

Movement in Support of Fight for Independence is Not Deemed Important

That harmony among the Koreans of Honolulu is continually being endangered by personal squabbles between Editor Y. M. Park and Dr. Syngman Rhee of the Korean boarding school, is the statement of a prominent local Japanese resident who is in close personal touch with the affairs and conditions not only of his own people, but of the natives of Korea.

In a statement to the Star-Bulletin today, which is in the form of comment on an exclusive story published in this paper on Friday to the effect that the Koreans are subscribing to a fund with which to "fight for the independence of Korea from Japan," this well known Japanese says:

"There are two central figures among the Koreans of Honolulu who are continually squabbling for individual power among their people. These are Editor Park of the Korean newspaper, and Dr. Rhee.

"Park is anti-Japanese in his opinions, but is very ambitious. Dr. Rhee, while an educationalist and a Christian gentleman, is also anti-Japanese.

"Dr. Rhee desires to educate the people of his race in this country to become anti-Japanese, but Park has deeper theories and believes he can train his young fellow-countrymen and lead them in a fight against the Japanese.

"On August 29, last year, Park announced that he was going to collect a 'war fund' for use by his country to fight Japan, and at the same time his men were sent all over the territory to solicit subscriptions toward this fund. But according to a report from a reliable source received by the Japanese consulate here, he has only collected about $300 to date.

"At that time Dr. Rhee and Park were in need of money for their own plans and wanted to draw on a portion of the reserve fund held by the Korean National Association. Both began negotiations with the organization toward this end. But the trustees of the association were in favor of Dr. Rhee and at once decided to set aside some of the fund for Dr. Rhee's work, and this embittered Park against the association, and he and Rhee ceased to be friends, it is reported.

"The association finally decided to aid neither Rhee nor Park. Then Park started collecting more war fund fees, threatening to use the power of his press against those who refused to respond. This has been reported to the Japanese consulate.

"The Japanese consul general will conduct a strict investigation for he thinks that Park is collecting the money fraudulently for personal use only.

"As a retaliatory measure Park's name has been placed upon the Japanese 'persona non grata' list since he returned from the mainland and he is denied the support and protection given here by the Japanese government to most Koreans."

RUMOR SUBMARINE BREMEN HAS BEEN CAPTURED FOR 3 WEEKS

Report Reaches Washington That Steel Nets of British Caught German Diver—Now at Rosyth

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 30.—A report of the capture of the German submarine Bremen has reached official circles here. According to the report, the Bremen was seen three weeks ago at the British naval station at Rosyth, Scotland, having been captured by steel nets. More than 70 submarines, it is reported, have been taken or destroyed by these nets.

Rumor Allies Want Another Huge Loan

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 30.—J. P. Morgan called for Europe today. He refused to discuss his mission and the report that his mission is the flotation of a new British loan of $250,000,000. He said he would remain in Europe five or six weeks.

BENCH VACANCY LEFT BY STUART TO REMAIN OPEN

BY C. S. ALBERT

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 18.—It is conceded on all sides here that James L. Coke will bring down the judicial plum or permission, as the case may be. The puckerings powers of the fruit will be more or less determined by the outcome of the November elections.

Officials in the department of justice seem to be a unit in the belief that Mr. Coke will walk off with the prize made available through the resignation of Judge T. B. Stuart. No announcement has been made and no definite conclusion reached, but the outcome is accepted as settled.

Up to this time there have been no protests filed against the appointment of Mr. Coke. Neither have any additional recommendations come along in behalf of C. C. Bittling or C. S. Franklin. The matter remains, as it did weeks ago, in a condition of approximate lethargy.

Old-timers in the department of justice cannot understand what has come over the people of Hawaii. Here, where a judicial vacancy occurred, cables and letters have been poured in by the score. Bricks have been heaved at the head of every man suggested as a possible selection. All this excitement is absent now. Officials remark and wonder.

The giving of a recess appointment to Mr. Coke seems unlikely. His designation is not anticipated for a couple of months. This would carry the time so near to the convening of Congress December 4, that it is probable the president will wait and send in nomination after that date. No haste is considered necessary, as the Hawaiian bench is in better shape than for some time past. The confirmation of a new member could not be made until in December. It appears reasonably certain that the announcement of Judge Stuart's successor will not be made until the congressional session begins.

Relations in Hawaii are becoming more cordial than otherwise it is pointed out at the Japanese consulate that many Japanese and Koreans have married here.

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Brooklyn retained the National League championship by a one-point lead today, when, after losing the morning game, 7 to 3, the Superbas came back and battered the Phillies into submission for a score of 6 to 1.

Rube Marquard, the elongated left-hander, pitched a marvelous game for the Brooklyn team, giving the Quakers but three hits, while the Superbas were nouncing the mighty Grover Alexander for many hits and six runs. Erving Kantlehner replaced Alexander in the eighth, but the damage had been done and as a result Brooklyn is once more the favorite for the National pennant.

Another of the ex-Giants figured in Philadelphia's defeat, "Chief" Meyers catching a fine game for the Superbas.

Pat Moran sent Grover Cleveland Alexander back into the game after one day's rest to clinch the last game of the series and give the Quakers a lead of one and a half games before they entered the last series of the year. Alexander used all his cunning throughout and the record crowd watched the battle of the pitchers. When the Brooklyn team took the lead the crowd went wild and cheered the Dodger southpaw to the echo.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Eppa Jephtha Rixey, Jr., of Culpepper, Va., threw his 6 feet 5 inches of reach into the game this morning against the Brooklyn Dodgers, and as a result the Philadelphia Quakers won their second straight game from the Brooklyn squad, and thereby took the leading place in the National League race. The score was 7 to 2.

It was truly a battle of Giants this morning, as Manager Wilbert Robinson sent big Jeff Pfeffer of Champaign, Illinois, into the fray to stop the climbing Phillies. Jeff towers up in the ozone a distance of 6 feet 3 inches and weighs 208 pounds. Both pitchers used every ounce of their 200-pound pounds to down each other.

A strong wind blew across the field, and in some respects interfered with the play. Brooklyn failed to hit Rixey in the pinches, and as a result lost out in the morning contest. The Dodger defense was much better than that of the team from the City of Brotherly Love, but whenever hits were threatened Rixey tightened up and stopped the home team.

Philadelphia secured but one more hit than did the Robins, but every single counted. Out of the ten hits that were secured off the Brooklyn mound-artist, seven counted for runs.

Col. Roosevelt Says President Fears a Fight

National Campaign Waxes Hot With Leaders Violently Denouncing the Other Party; Hughes Lauded in Colonel's Michigan Address

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
LONG BRANCH, N. J., Sept. 30.—In a vigorous address, in which he referred to the Republican campaign in the bitterest terms he has used thus far in the fight, President Wilson today told a large crowd that "the certain prospect if the success of the Republicans in the next election is that the United States will enter the European war or war with Mexico."

"Officials of the foreign governments," he continued, "will watch the election to know how they can treat the United States in the future."

He said that special interests with stakes in Mexico are working for the success of the Republicans. "In forcing upon the United States a policy being embraced by the partisan treatment of them by the Republicans," he charged and declared that the Republican as at present constituted and led believe in government by attorneys for special interests.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Sept. 30.—Col. Roosevelt made a vehement attack upon President Wilson, assailing the administration as flabby and weak. He referred to Wilson as "a man of words" and to Hughes as "a man of deeds" and charged that Wilson "sacrifices national honor of the United States" because he fears to pay the price of upholding it.

ALLIED 'DRIVE' CHECKED, ASSERT GERMANS TODAY

Official Cablegrams Say Western Thrust Has Stopped With Bloody Losses

(German Official)
GERMAN HEADQUARTERS REPORT, Sept. 28.—On the west front between Amre and the Somme the English and French after a preparation fire which almost exceeded all the volume up to this time, began again the attacks. On the largest part of the battlefield our unshakable infantry, under the command of Gen. Sixt von Arnim, von Huegel and von Schenck, efficiently assisted by the artillery and aviators, victoriously repulsed the enemy. Near Thiepval and east of Rancourt L'Abbaye the strenuous fighting has not yet terminated. The enemy sustained very bloody losses.

Our flyers shot down seven machines, four of which were in the Somme district. A small hostile air squadron entered Dutch territory and returned the same way, attacking almost without success. Bombs which were dropped in Brussels destroyed 15 houses and killed 13 Belgians, wounding 28.

On the eastern front, Prince Leopold's army easily repulsed feeble Russian attacks on the line west of Riga between Medall and Narocz lakes. Positions previously lost near Korytnica have been reconquered by troops.

Yesterday's Report
GERMAN HEADQUARTERS, Sept. 29.—On the west Bavarian Prince Rupprecht's men have checked with bloody losses the enemy on the Somme. The battle yesterday visibly ebbed down. Strong British attacks between Amre and Courcellette were repulsed and there was hand-to-hand fighting on the western wing.

Small parts of trenches were abandoned. Northwest and north of Courcellette the attack broke down under our fire. Feebler attacks were made near Rancourt and these likewise failed.

In the eastern war theater the Russians made attacks in vain against Prince Leopold of Bavaria's men, and unsuccessful attacks were made north-east of Godulishel and partly resumed, with artillery activity, but no incidents of importance.

The number of prisoners captured on September 27 near Korytnica increased to 41 officers and over 3000 men, and the booty to two cannon and 33 machine guns.

On Archduke Carl's front, combats in the Carpathians are still going on. Nothing special.

In the Transylvania war theater, the enemy's resistance in the district of Hermannstadt has grown lame and the Rumanian forces have been driven back toward the mountains.

The Balkan situation is unchanged.

The Louisville Railway Co. has increased the pay of 1,000 conductors and motormen one cent an hour.

VON FALKENHAYN SENT AGAINST KING FERDINAND'S MEN; COUP MAY CHANGE STATUS IN ARENA

BALKAN STRATEGY LIKELY TO BE UPSET IF NEW OFFENSIVE IS SUCCESSFUL—ALLIES ON WEST IMPROVE POSITIONS BUT BAD WEATHER MAKES DIFFICULT TO CARRY ON OPERATIONS—BRITISH LOSSES PUBLISHED

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)
BERLIN, Germany, Sept. 30.—Gen. von Falkenhayn's troops after a three day battle in the Hermannstadt region of Hungary, in South Transylvania, have achieved a signal victory. They have won the battle in impressive style, defeating strong sections of the first Rumanian army, which has been operating in the region.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 30.—For the first time today despatches from German sources betray the secret that Gen. von Falkenhayn, former chief of staff of the imperial German army, and then regarded as one of the empire's foremost soldiers, is in active field service.

It was announced some months ago that Falkenhayn had been displaced and reported that he had gone into virtual retirement in Berlin.

The first intimation that he is in active service comes coincident with the story of his victory. The fact that a general of such note has been placed in command of the Transylvania forces of the Central Powers means that an important campaign in this Austrian territory is under way.

A new Teutonic offensive, determinedly pressed in Transylvania, and sent through the passes by which the Rumanians lately gained Hungary, would place Rumania between two fires. In the rear, Gen. von Mackensen is operating with success in the Dobruja region, and is keeping a large force of Rumanians and Russians busy in protecting Bucharest. On the other side now von Falkenhayn is pressing onward.

French and British Gain on Front; Bad Weather Hinders Operations

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)
PARIS, France, Sept. 30.—The French made encouraging progress today north of Rancourt.

The bad weather all along the western front, and particularly on the Somme line, continues. The roads are heavy and it is difficult to move artillery or large bodies of infantry, and the weather is so foggy that today there was little aeroplane activity.

British Gain Successes on West

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 30.—Lively battling took place for a part of today north of Amre on the Somme front, the net result being that the British materially improved their positions.

Ground was won on the Thiepval area, where the Germans have put up an exceedingly dogged resistance, and also northwest of Lesurs.

Losses of British For September

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 30.—Announcement was made from the war office today that during September the British losses on all fronts were as follows: 5439 casualties among officers and 114,110 among men.

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 30.—The British steamer Rallus has been sunk.
